2011

Make your contribution to the Italy of the future.

Gathering information on those living today in Italy is essential to better organize the country of tomorrow. This is why we need a census.

The 15th Census questionnaire on population and housing 2011 has been sent to your address. Check your mailbox. You can also compile it online, using the password printed on the first page of the questionnaire.

This gives you access to the section of the website censimentopopolazione.istat.it dedicated to the questionnaire compilation. There you will find a guide in your language to help you in answering the questions in the form.

Be careful: the website section for the compilation will only be active from October 9.

The census is being conducted in all European Union countries; the information gathered will enable us to better understand Italy and compare its various regions.

SOME GOOD REASONS FOR TAKING PART

Participation in the census is compulsory by law, but above all it is useful for all those living in Italy, including foreign citizens currently living in this country for personal reasons, for work or for study purposes. In fact everybody's answers will serve to make important decisions for today and tomorrow, and thus form the basis of the Italy of the future.
